The duties of the AAC are to:

1. Provide leadership and oversight of the entire InCommon Assurance Program.

2. Review applications for certification to assert one or more InCommon Identity Assurance Qualifiers as set forth in the latest published InCommon Identity Assurance documents, as well as any renewals, revocations or appeals thereof, including resolving any complaints or concerns submitted about certified IdPOs.

3. Identify and engage in opportunities to provide new assurance profiles which will enhance Trust and Identity in Education and Research.

Charter Modifications?

The duties of the AAC (continued):

4. Coordinate with the InCommon Steering Committee and other groups as directed or deemed reasonable.

5. Make Recommendations to InCommon Steering Committee for the following:

   a. Award or denial of Identity Assurance Certifications

   b. Assurance Issues

   c. Changes to Assurance documents

   d. Changes to the Assurance certification program

The AAC shall be deemed to be effective in its operations when each of the following goals is consistently achieved:

1. Credible and timely assessment of applications, renewals and appeals for certification.

2. Professional and reasonable resolution of assessment issues (open to the evolving nature of levels of assurance), in compliance with the Identity Assurance Assessment Framework (IAAF).

3. Confidentiality maintained throughout the process.

4. Community use of the InCommon Assurance materials.
