Videos describe federated identity management

The Network Startup Resource Center (NSRC) has developed a series of videos that will take you through the policies and technologies of identity management on a local level, as well as how identity federations like InCommon are of value. There are 10 videos that cover the topics below. You will find background information at the NSRC's website. The NSRC produced the videos in partnership with GEANT (the pan-European network and a fundamental part of Europe's e-infrastructure).
