

Feedback Period Open for Attributes for Collaboration WG Report

The Attributes for Collaboration and Federation Working Group has released its draft report, which is open for community feedback. The report includes the results of a survey conducted to help understand the slow uptake of the Research & Scholarship (R&S) Category of Service Providers. The working group was formed to examine the reasons for low participation in the R&S Category and develop some recommendations on how InCommon might substantially increase adoption.

The report and feedback submission form are on the wiki.

Links to all consultations can be found on the Trust and Identity Consultations page.