Call for Proposals - Technology Exchange and 2014 Identity Week

Call for Proposals - Technology Exchange and 2014 Identity Week

Identity Week 2014 will take place October 26-30, 2014, in conjunction with the Technology Exchange in Indianapolis. The Technology Exchange is convened by Internet2 in conjunction with the Department of Energy's Energy Sciences Network (ESnet) and hosted by Indiana University.

In addition to Trust, Identity and Middleware Applications, the Technology Exchange will have these topic areas: Security, Cloud Services, and Advanced Networking.

The Trust, Identity and Middleware Applications track provides a venue for identity architects, developers and implementers to explore and discuss topics of broad interest to the community. Advance CAMP, with its unconference format, will take place on October 27-28, while CAMP will be October 29-30.

CAMP will include sessions proposed by the community and the call for proposals is now open. Please see the details, including possible topic areas, at:

https://meetings.internet2.edu/2014-technology-exchange/call-participation/

If you have any questions, please email info@incommon.org