Are Passwords Passé? Deployment Strategies for Multi-Factor Authentication - Director's Cut

You may have heard them at the EDUCAUSE Annual Meeting, but David Walker and Mike Grady return on Wednesday, December 10 (2 pm ET) for a special appearance at IAM Online.

Increasingly, passwords alone cannot continue to protect online systems. A Cohortium of more than 40 institutions evaluating multifactor authentication alternatives (phone, certificates, and hardware-based tokens) to mitigate risks and increase security. In this talk, we will outline the issues an institution should consider when selecting and deploying a strategy for multi-factor authentication, including business drivers, policy concerns, and technical factors.
